🌟 Foundations of Faith: The "Mathlic" Kids

My story begins in Fayetteville, Arkansas, where I grew up as the only girl—right in the middle of two brothers. My childhood was shaped entirely by my parents, who are the most influential people in my life. Because my daddy is a retired Methodist minister, and my mom is Catholic, we always joked that we were “Mathlic kids.”

We never missed church. Our weekends were a marathon of faith: Mass on Saturday nights & on Sunday, joining my dad at his church and heading to youth group that night. My parents filled our home with so much safety and love that I grew up completely sheltered from the harsh realities of the world. It wasn't until I moved out on my own at 19 that I realized some children actually experience hurt at home. My parents gave us an extraordinary gift, and I am endlessly grateful for the way they raised us.

🚗 Sweet Memories & Unique Traditions

Some of my absolute favorite childhood memories involve my grandparents. My grandfather's name was Paul Harvey. Whenever we had family reunions in Branson, Missouri, the hotel marquee would proudly display: “Welcome Back Paul Harvey and Family.” My grandparents had a magical way of making us feel special, especially by filling every single dresser drawer in our hotel room with amazing snacks—our beloved “snack drawers.”

As a little girl, I always wanted to be a princess when I grew up. While I traded the crown for a love of cars, I still kept a splash of royalty—I collect pink Hot Wheels! Going to car shows has always been a unique family tradition of ours, one that started long before I met my husband, and it is a passion we still carry on today.

💖 Love, Marriage, and Motherhood

My very first job was at Chick-fil-A, but my life truly changed the night I went out for a girls' night. Through a friend, I met the love of my life, Cortney. Cortney is actually the one who brought me to Calvary. Today, Cortney and I have been blessed with two beautiful children. The keys to our successful marriage have always been staying rooted in church and putting God first in everything we do. As a family, our absolute favorite thing to do is hit the open road. We love packing up for road trips, whether we are cruising down Route 66, chasing spontaneous "let's go" vibes, and hunting down the coolest finds at hidden flea markets and thrift stores. We are making great memories!

👗 Life is Too Short for Boring Clothes

If you know me, you know I love working in fashion! My personal theory is that life is way too short not to have fun with your clothes—the crazier, the better! I love partnering with Bailey Jo Boutique to coordinate vibrant outfits and help other women feel beautiful. My husband jokingly says I have 18 different personalities because I balance so many passions! Alongside fashion, I work in payroll at Harps, serve as a Mary Kay Consultant, and give my time to our church media team. I also have an absolute passion for collecting shoes, purses, jewelry, and one day, I cannot wait to learn how to crochet and sew.

Lessons for the Heart (My Rules to Live By)

Through all of life's twists and turns, I have learned a few invaluable lessons that I want to pass down:

*On Speech: Using curse words simply shows a lack of intelligence if you cannot articulate your feelings without resorting to them.

*The Funeral Rule: I used to worry far too much about what others thought of me. Now, I live by a strict rule: If it is not someone I would care to have at my funeral, I do not take stock in their ugly criticism.

*Advice to My Younger Self: Don't strive to be what everyone else wants you to be. Just be who God made you to be.

Looking Forward with Gratitude

If I have any regrets, it is only that I wish I had spent even more time with my family and leaned on God even sooner. I am overwhelmingly grateful for my family and my wonderful church family, whom I surround myself with to stay rooted.

As I look to the future, my heart is full. I look forward to growing old alongside Cortney, watching my children grow into adulthood, celebrating their weddings, and fiercely spoiling my future grandbabies.
