Jerry Ross

I was born in Carlisle, Iowa, as the middle child of five kids. My family later relocated to Arkansas to care for my grandmother. My early years were spent enjoying outdoor activities such as fishing in my neighbor's pond, hunting and spending the holidays with family. I began working at age 12, picking berries and beans to earn money for clothes and shoes, and later worked washing cars at the gas station. From a young age, I aspired to be a builder and eventually pursued a career in construction, specializing in carpentry and trim work for both residential and commercial projects. Throughout my career, I had the privilege of working with individuals who were former prisoners of war and members of the Civilian Conservation Corp whose experiences instilled in me a strong work ethic, positive attitude, and respect for others.

I served in the Army during the Korean War era and the Cuban Missile Crisis. After my military service, I married Frances with whom I shared 48 years until her passing. Together, we raised three children and enjoyed family activities such as camping, fishing and caring for dogs. My past-time hobbies included motorcycle repair and riding, as well as crafting custom dulcimers [a stringed musical instrument].

Now retired, I remain committed to lifelong learning. I recently acquired a lathe and have developed skills in wood carving, creating items such as spoons, coffee scoops, wood bowls, and round wood boxes with lids. At 87, I am grateful for my health, maintain an active lifestyle, and strive for a balanced diet. I trust in the Lord and rely on Jesus daily. My advice to my younger self would be to be attentive to the needs of others.

I found faith later in life, attending church with my late wife in Lowell. I joined Calvary Church after word of mouth and meeting Pastor Clark while assisting with repairs, and have been an active member since.
